

Immortals: Top Champion

Cambyses II was the son of Cyrus the Great. He ruled the Persian Empire. He ruled over 7 years. He expanded the empire by taking over Egypt. He did this in the Battle of Pelusium. This battle took place in 525 BCE. Cambyses wanted to marry the pharaoh's daughter. Pharaohs are ancient Egyptian rulers. The pharaoh sent Cambyses another woman instead. Cambyses felt tricked. He was mad. He went to battle. He didn't just fight with force. He also liked to mess with people's minds. He knew Egyptians worshipped cats. He ordered the Immortals and other soldiers to paint cats on their shields. Egyptians saw the cats. They didn't want to fight. They didn't want to hurt the cats. Cambyses won the battle. No one knows how Cambyses died. One story said he lost his mind. He killed his brother. He cut his leg. His leg got infected. He died.

Navy SEALs: Top Champion

Chris Cassidy was born in 1970. He was born in Massachusetts. He graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He was a Navy SEAL for 10 years. He was a captain. He served several tours of duty. He fought in the war against terror. He fought in Afghanistan. He fought in the Mediterranean Sea. He fought in the Persian Gulf. But he wasn't happy with just saving Earth. He also went to space. He's a NASA astronaut. NASA is in charge of the U.S. space program. Cassidy was the chief of the Astronaut Office. He was the 500th person in space. He's the second Navy SEAL in space. He went on a couple of space missions. He did 6 spacewalks. Spacewalks are when astronauts work outside their ships. They float in space. Cassidy worked at the International Space Station. He spent 182 days in space. He's famous for taking a selfie from space. He did this in 2013.