

AND THE VICTOR IS . . .

*What are their next moves?
Who do you think would win?*

Medusa could win if:

- She covers her nose. Hel smells really bad. Half her body is rotting away. Hel's smell could distract Medusa. It would burn her eyes.
- She catches Hel off guard. Hel just has to look at her once to turn to stone.

Hel could win if:

- She learns to fight without looking at Medusa. She could practice fighting blindfolded. Blindfolded means having a piece of cloth covering the eyes.
- She takes an antidote for snake venom. Antidotes are medicine. They cancel out venom and poison. They cure and heal.

Both Hel and Medusa are female monsters in ancient myths.
