

People say they see Mary in a fancy white party dress.

In 1980, Clare Rudnicki saw her. She drove by the cemetery. She saw a girl walking. She saw bright light. She drove past. She turned around. The ghost vanished.

In 1989, Janet Kalal drove to the cemetery. She saw a woman in white. The woman stepped in front of her car. Kalal hit her. Then, the ghost vanished.

People think Resurrection Mary is Mary Bregovy's ghost. Bregovy went to a dance with her boyfriend. They got into a fight. Bregovy left. She walked. A car hit her. The driver ran away. This happened in 1934. Bregovy was buried in Resurrection Cemetery. She was buried in a white gown.
