

Real World Connection

Horus isn't the only person with a falcon head. Freddie Falcon is an official mascot. Mascots are symbols. They represent a group. They are supposed to bring good luck. Freddie Falcon represents the Atlanta Falcons. The Atlanta Falcons are a football team in Georgia. They're part of the National Football League (NFL). It's someone's job to wear the Freddie Falcon costume. Freddie Falcon was Atlanta's first mascot. He's entertained fans for over 35 years. He goes to games. He goes to parties. He goes to shows. He goes to weddings. He goes to meetings. He goes to all kinds of events. He's been to many cities. He's been to New York City. He's been to Los Angeles. He's even been overseas. He goes to military bases. He's been to Cuba. He's been to Egypt. He's been to Hong Kong. He was a part of the Chinese New Year's Day parade.

Horus was connected to the cross symbol.

Horus was often shown with his wings stretched out. This showed how he watched over all. His main weapon was a scepter. Scepters are long sticks. They have fancy designs. They're a symbol of power. Horus's scepter had a falcon head on the top. He used it in his war against Set.

Horus had 4 sons. His sons were Imset, Hapi, Duamutef, and Qebehsenuf. Imset was a human. He guarded the south. Hapi was a baboon. He guarded the north.